InLiquid at the Bride Presents GenRich, a new installation by Steven Earl Weber
February 1 - March 15, 2008

Painted Bride Cafe Gallery, 230 Vine Street, Philadelphia, PA
First Friday Reception: February 1, 5 - 7 PM

(Philadelphia, January 2008) InLiquid at the Bride presents GenRich, a new installation by Steven Earl Weber. GenRich reacts to recent breakthroughs in genetic sciences, addressing the human body and its byproducts as commodities to be bought and sold.

GenRich is a sculpture installation designed and constructed by Steven Earl Weber including painted ceramics and specially designed objects. The gallery space is transformed into a faux-corporate showroom for the display of genetically enhanced, designer “organs”, and cloned “body parts”. Through GenRich, Weber makes a commentary on recent advancements in and the commercialization of genetics and biotechnology.

Steven Earl Weber is a Philadelphia-based sculptor, designer, and curator. Weber received his BFA in ceramics and glass at Kent State University, Ohio. Weber has been featured in group exhibitions in Philadelphia, New York City, and the United Kingdom, in addition to solo exhibits at Bambi Gallery and Salon Ricochet in Philadelphia, the Kent State University Sculpture Gallery, and Burnside Gallery, in Isle of Arran, Scotland. Since 2006 Weber has also been the co-director of Kelly and Weber 201 Gallery at the Crane Arts Building.
